

Ethical Marketing Agreement

In marketing and promoting its courses, Vedadrama is committed to being transparent, fair and honest with its customers.

All information about programs, certification processes, prices are published on the company website and in the program brochures that are shared with prospective participants.

All information about the organization and its programs shall be completely truthful and accurate with no intent to mislead the customer about the price, benefits or outcomes of the programs.

The marketing material shall reflect Vedadrama's commitment to inclusiveness and diversity and shall completely avoid discriminatory language / imagery and stereotyping.

The marketing material shall comply with laws and regulations that govern Indian advertising and marketing.