Course Engagement Guidelines

Vedadrama follows the principles and pedagogy of PIB, Germany.

The course overview is provided in an information brochure and explained in the orientation session.

Additionally, the agenda for every session is shared at the start of the session.

All participants are expected to be fully present during all sessions and participate in all parts of the program to the best of their ability.

This includes arriving on time, abiding by the code of conduct, and engaging in course activities.

Any exceptions should be approved by the course instructor or should be covered under the provisions of the DEIJ policy.

Code of Conduct

Participants are expected to conduct themselves in a professional and respectful manner during all sessions.

This includes, but is not limited to:

1. Attending all in person and online sessions - including teaching sessions, small group work activities and mentor coaching sessions.
2. If a participant is unable to join an activity, the instructor should be informed at least 24 hours prior to the start of the activity.
3. Arriving on time to all sessions.
4. Having the camera on for virtual live sessions.
5. Participating fully in all sessions viz. being prepared for the session, involving themselves in discussions and activities, assuming responsibility for their own learning and contributing to the learning of others
6. Engaging in discussions with integrity and honesty.
7. Being respectful of fellow participants and instructors, including silencing cell phones, not texting and demonstrating behaviors that could disrupt the immersive learning experience of other participants.
8. Ensuring interactions respect the dignity of other participants and the instructor(s).
9. Maintaining absolute confidentiality with regard to sharing of personal details and experiences by participants and abiding by Vedadrama's commitment to "What is shared in the workshop, stays in the workshop."

In line with our DEI/J policy, Vedadrama is committed to make possible accommodations at the sole discretion of the course instructor(s) and CEO of Vedadrama.
