

PGP: Psychodrama Group process Practitioner -2025

Hybrid Format
In-person and Online learning

Who is it for?

This is for:

Coaches, Trainers, Facilitators, People Enablers,
Leadership Development Professionals, Business Leaders, who have completed a year of intensive Psychodrama learning from Vedadrama.

Scope of Learning

Psychodrama, Sociodrama, Sociometry, Group Process and Action Methods and concepts you will learn:

Sociodrama in the Workplace

Because of the nature of the workplace, we respect people's right not to disclose personal information. Sociodrama at the workplace helps people express work related issues without personal disclosure by:

- Concretizing issues that represent group concerns;
- Using role-plays to explore central concerns of the group;
- Deconstruct group issues as to how they relate to the self (if desired).

Group Dynamics

Psychodrama is primarily a group method; and a good psychodrama director develops in-depth knowledge and understanding of the psychological processes in groups:

- From a diagnostic point of view
- When planning intervention, to avoid stepping on 'group dynamic minefields'.

Creating a Safe Container

Before the group there was a void. Psychodrama directors make a leap into the void and help create a container. We pay attention to structures & boundaries and also become aware of individual and group themes which develop as the group progresses.

The focus is on the individual of 'Who am I?' AND the group, 'Who or what is this group?'

Creative Action Methods

As a work place application, we learn how aggressive, competitive leaders can be engaged in creative action spaces to: map systems, take and develop roles, experience human connection, gain clarity and insight, and prepare to take decisive action.

Continuation of practice of protagonist plays using psychodrama techniques like Role Reverse, Role Interview, Mirroring, Empty Chair used in 1:1 coaching and personal growth groups.

More about Vedadrama

Psychodrama in India

Originally developed by Dr. Jacob L. Moreno (since 1921), and later expanded by Prof. Dr. Hans-Werner Gessmann (Founder of PIB Germany, established in 1973) it is one of the Humanistic Therapy methods (amongst Gestalt Therapy - Fritz Perls; client centered approach - Carl Rogers ; Logo Therapy - Viktor E. Frankl; and Transactional Analysis TA - Eric Berne) practiced widely in Europe and US and brought to India by the new owner of PIB, Prof. Dr. Jochen Becker-Ebel in 2012.

Vedadrama Founder

Jochen Becker-Ebel, a former priest, PhD in Philosophy and Theology, is the founder of Vedadrama. He is owner and CEO of the German MediAcion Palliative Care training institute and of PIB-Zentrum. Becker-Ebel found his second home in Tiruvannamalai India in 1985. After falling in love with India, he comes back every year for a few months. Since 1990 he trained 3000 German and Indian Medical Doctors in Palliative Care, now as Adjunct Professor. In 2008 Dr. Grete Leutz and others requested him to give formal psychodrama training accredited by the Hamburg Psychotherapy Council and the DFP.

Vedadrama Trainers

Becker-Ebel expanded 2012 to India and teaches now with his Indian Trainer-Partners Rashmi Datt PAT, Madhu Shukla PAT and Haseena Abdullah PAT at Bangalore, Mangalore, Coimbatore, Mumbai and New Delhi. He is joined by other international and board accredited experts like Dr. Steven Durost, Dr. Karen Drucker TEP, and Klaus E. Harter.

Advanced training

The typical learning group of 10 to 15 persons will have a continuous experience of learning for at least one year.

Annual certificates are given after the first and second year. After 142 hours of training the Psychodrama Coach Practitioner certificate, (PCP) can be obtained. After the next 138 hours, PGP or Psychodrama Group Practitioner is reached.

The Psychodrama Director certified Practitioner (CP) is obtained after an exam and training spread over 3-4 years. The successful learner can call themselves according to the profession of origin: Coach / Psychodrama Director CP; Counsellor (or) therapeutic Practitioner / Psychodrama Director CP as well as Educator (or) Trainer / Psycho- drama Director CP.

Accreditation

The education pathway of Vedadrama in itself is a unique offering because of the flexibility of its application rather than confining itself to a single focused profession or path of accreditation.

The Education is internationally accredited by the PIB, Germany, which is accredited itself by the respective Medical council and the German authorities.

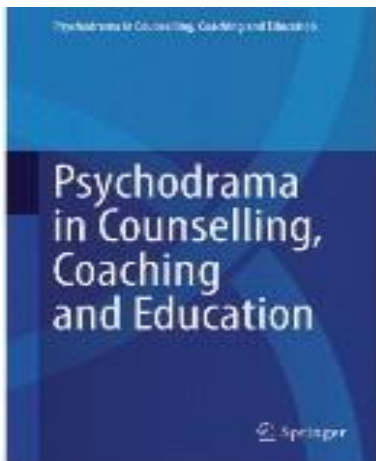

In India, Vedadrama Education is part of the advanced learning program of the Medical faculty of the Yenepoya deemed to be an University at Mangalore since 2018. Vedadrama (and/or PIB) are organizational members of ASGPP, IAGP, IAC and ISPS.

Literature

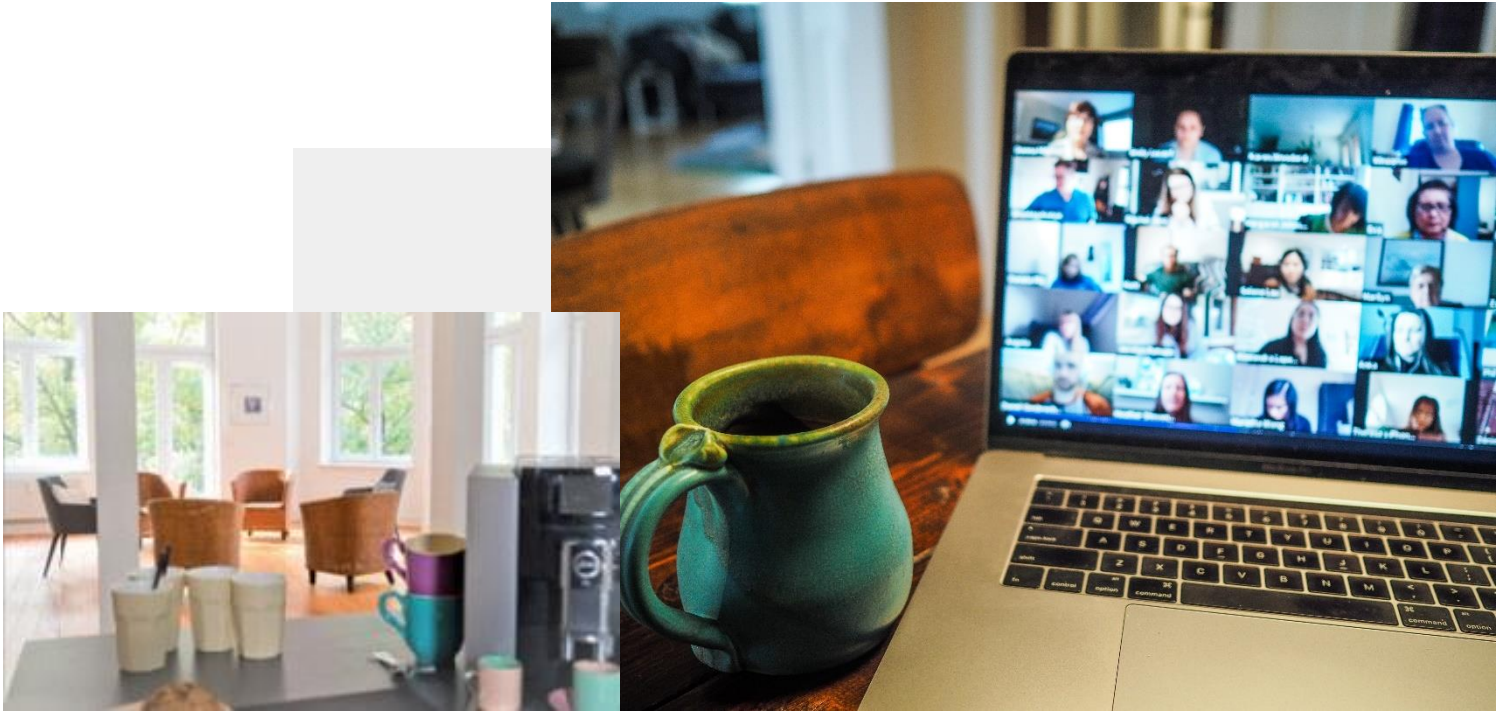

In July 2020 Springer nature published: “Fundamentals of Psychodrama” by Dr. habil Falko von Ameln and Prof. Dr. Jochen Becker-Ebel. It is the new textbook of Psychodrama Education for Vedadrama.
